1. Claims 1-10 and 12-27 are presented for examination.

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 1-10 and 12-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

(a) Claim 1, "predicted control word set by the control word changing operation" is inconsistent with the disclosure in the specification and the operation of the invention.

(b) Claim 1, it is not clear what "other control words" represent and what is the significance of matching actual control word with them.

(c) Claim 1, "predicting control word in response to control word changing operation" is an inaccurate description, because the control word changing operation does not cause prediction. Prediction is made before the control changing operation actually changes the control word.

(d) Claim 1, it is not clear whether an actual control word is obtained as the result of the control word changing operation.

(e) Claim 10, the same as (b) to (d).

(f) Claim 18, the same as (b) to (d).

(g) Claim 23, the same as (b) to (d), and "said control word prediction logic" lacks antecedent basis. "... using said prediction control word" in the last line appears to be in error.

4. Applicant's arguments filed June 12, 2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argued that "to cause re-execution... if said actual control words matches any of the plurality of other control words" is clear on its face.

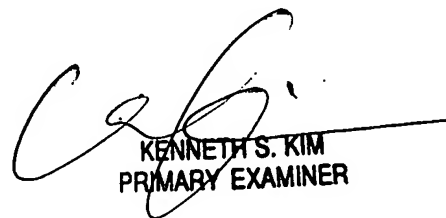

Examiner respectfully disagrees. It is not clear what the other control words represent and what is the significance of matching. Due to lack of context, the relevance of the matching to re-execution is not clear and the phrase makes no meaningful sense.
